

Safety of Immigrant, Refugee, and Non-Status Women Project

New Resources Available!

Immigrant Women's Project: Safety of Immigrant, Refugee, and Non-Status Women is a 240-page resource guide that contains a collection of the primary resource documents created by the project. It includes our research, consultations that identified the barriers facing immigrant, non-status, and refugee women and recommendations detailed in the 14 federal and provincial Briefing Notes to improve policy and law reform to increase the safety of women.

The Role of Canadian Immigration Laws and Policies in Relation to Women's Safety: A Lawyer's Compendium contains all the briefing notes produced by the project, as well as information on submissions on specific reforms in process and EVA BC recommendations to the jury and presiding coroner at the Lee Inquest in December 2009.
